

First Christian Communicator

From the Interim Minister

Thank you friends, for honoring me with a celebration for my 45th ordination anniversary. I was completely surprised and totally speechless. I am grateful to everyone who had a hand in it. It took place after the worship service on May 20 as part of the coffee fellowship hour. I walked in on it totally unaware.

Angela Christie made a sign "45 years," and Margie Barnes provided a beautiful cake and cookies. Thank you so much. And for all the help in the kitchen, the set up and clean up, thank you as well. Special thanks go out to my wife, Jennifer, who organized the event. She bought 566 green, left-handed pencils to be used as center pieces. What will we ever do with all those pencils?

The whole event got me to thinking what it was like in the church back in 1973. We used typewriters (electric) and did our printing of newsletters and bulletins on a mimeograph machine. We had to type up a stencil (no mistakes), attach it to the drum, fill it up with ink (sometimes messy) and then hand crank it.

Land line telephones were all we had and long distance calls were very expensive. We didn't have digital projectors, but we sometimes used 16 millimeter and 8 millimeter, or even film strip projectors. We played records or cassette tapes. Some lucky people had "reel to reel." Our standard equipment in children's Sunday School was the flannel graph board. It worked well.

We wrote lots of letters and the big excitement of each working day was the arrival of the mail!

So times have changed, but some things remain the same. Churches are full of people who care for one another. They celebrate special events and show respect for everyone.

Thank you again for being the church. I am truly honored.

Pastor Jim
